Bombay, the 29th November 1957

No. CER/233/T/2/57—In pursuance of Rules 42 and 233, read with Rule 233 of the Central Excise Rules, 1944, I direct that every whole-sale dealer in duty paid tobacco including a manufacturer of tobacco products shall:

- (i) where he stocks tobacco assessed at the higher and lower rates of duty, keep separate accounts of tobacco assessed at different rates of duty either in separate books or in separate sections in the same book in form E.B.3;
- (ii) stock the tobacco in an orderly manner so as to permit an easy count and verification of goods with the covering documents and E.B.3 accounts, consignments of tobacco received under different transport documents being so stored that these can be identified and distinguished from each other;
- (iii) where he delivers tobacco under the sale notes, endorse on the back of the original transport permit or sale note the quantity of tobacco issued on T.P. 1 or sale-note every day in the sub-joined form;

Date of issue	T.P.1 or Sale-note No.	No. of Packages	Net Weight	Balance
1	2	3	4	5

- (iv) where he manufactures tobacco products viz.: hookah tobacco, snuff, etc., enter on the fly leaf of the E.B.3 book, the formula for the manufacture of such products, showing the proportion of tobacco and other ingredients used for the manufacture of such products, and in case of biris, the types and brands of biris manufactured and the weight of tobacco used per thousand biris of each type or the number of biris of each type obtained from a pound of tobacco.

- (v) Physically check his stocks of duty paid tobacco once a year in the last week of December or any other month which may be suitable to him by actual weighment and enter the quantity so ascertained in the E.B.3 account on the date of check, the difference between the actual and the book balance being shown in the remarks column as loss or gain as the case may be. Alternatively when any consignment relating to a covering document in T.P.1 or sale-note is disposed off, the deficiency or excess noticed should be mentioned in the remarks column and adjusted in book balance of E.B.3 register.
- (vi) where the tobacco cleared in the wholeleaf form is processed in the L-2 premises the wholesale dealer will inform the Range Officer and make suitable entries in the remarks column of his E.B.3 account showing the details of the packages taken for processing and products and number of packages obtained from the same, and adjust the balance in E.B.3 accordingly. Similar remarks shall also be made on the P.T.1 or sale-note covering the consignment processed. This last requirement is very much in the licensee's own interest as processed tobacco having changed its form cannot be co-related to the wholeleaf tobacco for which the licensee has documents, and may therefore, be held to be tobacco unauthorisedly obtained in the absence of proof of processing.
